

Segal Esther

Full Professor, M.Sc., PhD

Department of Human Microbiology, Faculty of Medicine, Tel Aviv University, Ramat Aviv, Israel

The research in her laboratory focuses on three main areas related to fungal infections in humans and animals and they include: fungal virulence factors and pathogenesis of fungal infections, therapy of fungal infections and prevention of infection by intervention with the pathogenic process.

She authored around 130 journal articles, abstracts, and several book chapters.

Publication list is on https://www.researchgate.net/profile/Esther_Segal